THE NATIONAL ANTHEM. its way. A noberer and same patriotism

SUGGESTION FOR AN IMPERIAL YERSE.

A correspondent, writing to the "Malay Mail," says :--

In a recent number of "United Empire," the Royal Colonial Institute appeals to its members for suggestions. for an Imperial verse for the National Authem. Some months before this appeal; appeared it occurred to the writer that an entirely new anthem was urgently called for by the changed conditions and prevailing spirit of the times, and the muclosed crude attempt was made to supply the deficiency. Any Imperial verse that might be written could but he an anachrenism when sandwiched into the existing Anthenic and would probably not ; appeal to the handiernftsmen of the God bless our Empire's Kingl Empire. The word "workers," is pure long life and health we sing.

posely avoided now that we are all workers or our country in some way or other. stremums days. undoubtedly the unity of the Empire Brothers, the whole world round. depends again the sentiment of loyalty Ito a common Chief, it seems a great pity that we should have no common song or hynm, empable of expressing that sentiment in a sufficiently cutholic spirit to be acceptable to all classes, effects, political parties and ? ists " throughout the present National Anthem was composed by a Jacobite in homour of " Charlie across the water," as witness the expression "Send him victorious," Line " send him (back) victorious," and was set to music by Dr.

John Bull, organist of the Chapel Royal. who first used it as an Anthem on special God keep the poor man's King occasions in the reign of James II. It therefore intentionally disloyal to the present line of British sovereigns, and particularly offensive to those superloyalists-the Orangemen of Ulster.

Fortunately the Jacobite is a lorgotten figure of ancient history over the greater part of the British Empire to-day, as we may hope the Orangeman, Nationalist and Sinn Feiner will be after the war.' TOLD TO SPANISH MARINES

The Literary Digest says :-The frantic enxiety shown by the Germans to minimize the importance of America's intervention in the war is the best evidence of the fear they feel. The German papers are full of atories, post sible and impossible, about what is hap-pening in this country, and every effort is made to persuade the German people that America's adhesion to the Allied cause is but a half-hearted affair. It is, however, to the German-controlled Press ample, the good people of Valencia, in Spain, are told by the local pro-German paper, El Dia, that America is on the point of revolution against the warlike clique which dominates the situation in Washington and that the army and navy themselves are riddled with disaffection. F. J. Ling, Eng. Co., is granted Navy!" It then proceeds to treat its readers to this entrancing piece of imaginative writing: "Sensational news has reached us of a serious revolt which occurred about the middle of October in the North American Navy on board several warships which arrived damaged at the port of Halifax after they had escorted a large number of transports going with American troops to France. The rebellion started on three Yankes battleships which came into Halifax flying the signal 'Rebellion on board." "One of the ships raised the flag of a Vice Admiral as a sign that the commander of the rebals. Commodore Dorswell, was inviting the naval authorities at Halifax to come on board, which they did quite unsuspect-

"The battleships were awaiting with steam up. When the authorities arrived they were made prisoners by the mutineers, who then proceeded to threaten the garrison of the forts unless they came over to their side. The forts, were powerless to fire upon the rebellious ships, which were behind a rocky salient of the coast; so a group of officers were sent for a parley, but they, too, joined the rebels.

It is interesting to note that the writer of this ingenious piece of fiction, seems to imagine that Halifax is an American town garrisoned by American troops. Paving proceeded to capture all the representatives of the Navy Department in a place where none exist; the mutineers started a pitched bottle with the ships that remained loyal. El Dia goes cheerfully on :-

"In the meantime the battleships Minnesota, Kansas and South Caroline and the cruisers Albany, Raleigh Des Moines, Tocoma and Chattaneoga -sil of them boats of little military importance and slow speed, with the exception of the first battleship mentioned - surrendered with loud cheers. When the battleships tried to line up for battle the Kanssa was hit by a 30:5 centimetre shell fired by the North Dakota, the flagship of the mutineers, whose commander had already been convicted in 1916 of insubordination and grave neglect of duty in connecwith the first submarina campaign. When the crews of the other ships saw that the Konsas was out of commission they joined the mutineers."

Apparently after this comic operation In a latter dated the 25th February, battle the sailors became as mad as this story, for, we are told :--"The sailors began to commit all kinds of depredations, and they continued for about four hours. They cut the steel cables which held sixteen partially-constructed merchant vessels. sliding them into the water and sinking them at the entrance to the dikes, which were thus closed for several months. Thirty-eight other hulls. all of them well advanced in the process of construction, were sunk in the channel leading to the arsenals. "The government, though powerless to resist the mutineers, still controlled the censor, but, despite all their efforts, they could not preyent the news from reaching Europe. although, as will be seen, it arrived somewhat late."

PETROL SHORTAGE IN INDIA AND Ceylon...

.The petrol restrictions are being most rigorously enforced in India and Ceylon and extensive experiments are being made with kerosine and alcohol. It is understood that the Ceylon Sugar Refineries Company is capable of aupplying twenty thousand gallons weekly. ermission is being sought from the Government to use this alcohol. Should be permission be given and the idotorinks experiments now being made prove satisfactory the supply is adequate to remove the motorists troubles. Mr. Toby, M. P., thinks that if Liberals. and Unionists elect to fight each other at the next General Election. Mr. Henderof Finance, who stated that the deficit son's dream of a Labour majority may be if we are to judge by all past experiences, a very different result will tonsuo. SITUATION VIEWED WITH CALMINESS.

> Lospon, May 29, 9.10 p.m.

Reuter's Correspondent at French Headquarters, telegraphing to-day

The expansion of the enemy wings enabled him to bring his right within a short distance of Soissons; while his left reached an alignmen which forms practically a sem circle around Rheims. Last night the position of the French and British holding the extreme right of the line became difficult. They were under fire on three sides, from the old German line between Courcy and Rheims and from the new lines which the Germans established in passing them, to the south. So they are now obliged to face east, north and west.

We are entering upon a critical pluse of the battle, but the issue is jawa.ted. calmly. Our reserves are "hadtening up and the morale of our men is superb. The Germans had the choice of the point of attack and were able to concentrate masse against a sector, which was thin Infld. The choice of a real line resistance will be ours.

The new battle is spreading over the ground of the Battle of th Marn's, where the energy's triumphant tush was broken in September, 1914.

SCOTTISH LETTER.

(From Our Own Correspondent.).

LORD PIRRIE AND SHIPBUILDING. Lord Pirrie has accepted, on his own terms; the position of Controller-General of Merchant Shipping; he has left Glasgow; and already he is busy in his new Department at the Admiralty. Delay in buckling to is not one of his faults,

The curse of Britain since the War began has been our fondness for the facile phrase. At each stage of the great drama we have rolled our tongues round a favourite sentence. When somebody said the War was for be won by ships, ships, and yet! againships, we counted that the War was already won by using the easy. works. But the repetition of the wonls wont do it, as we have found to our cost. We have to rely on a superhuman concentration of all our shipbuilding talent. And that talent persons were killed and 45 injured, as has to be organised. And we have called on Lord Pirrie to collect that shipbuilding talent, and organise it, and we hope and believe he will be able to get us out of the tangle.

Lord Pirrie, our Controller-Genéral of Merchant Shiphuilding, if not i pure Scot, is of the next best variety of the race. He is Scoto-Irish, ! His father was James Alexander Pirrie, of Clandeboye, County Down, and his mother was Eliza, daughter of Alexander Montgomery of Dundesart, County Antrim. The family removed to Canada some time before the birth of the future Shipbuilding Controller, and he first saw the light in Quebec on the 31st May, 1847. On the family's return from the Dominion, William James," as he was christelled, was bound apprentice to the slipbuilding and engineering firm of Hadand and Wolff. The apprentice, was not without means or influence, but his rise in the course of twelve years to the position of manager was almost entirely due to his practical abilities. By the time he had reached his majority, r friendly critic declared that he carried more knowledge of ships and shipping under his hat than the whole comoined shipping interest of Belfast. This, no doubt, was too dattering an estimate; but it had some basis of truth. He is now Chairman of the

Much of Lord Pirrie's success is due to his ability to think and act on a big scale." As a business man be has no fade of crotchets, and he is thoroughly human. No ship Harland and Wolff's will ever be spoiled for want of the proverbial pennyworth of paint so long as he remains in command; and no servitor will ever retire disgruntled from his presence because of the smallness of his Lordship's tip. He is not a secretive man; no really big man ever is: he speaks his mind freely in season or out of season.

SCOTTISH DOCTOR'S ADVESTURES.

Dr. Colin Simpson, who joined the Russian Army medical staff in BANQUE INDUSTRIELLE DE August, 1914, and who has now arrived home after almost three and a half years' service in the field, and a perilous journey of ten weeks duration, is a nephew of the Provest of Fraserburgh. He is a graduate of Arts and Medicina of Aberdeen University, and has had an adventurous career abroad. Dr. Simpson was attached to a British Boundary Commission in Bolivia; and visited places in South America in which no white num had previously set foot.

Subsequently he became a Professor in Mukden (Manchuria) Medical College. At the outbreak of war he joined the Russian Army, receiving the rank of Colonel. He superintended the evacuation of 18,000 wounded from Lodz, for which feat he received congratulations and the Visidimir decoration with swords. Then for two years he worked with the Army in the Carpathians. It is calculated that he performed something like 2,000 operations, treated 50,000 wounded, and superintended SHOULD NOT BE NEGLECTED

BOY SCOUTS BRAVE ATTEMPT IN Q A WRECKED HOUSE.

A revised list of ensualties in a recent air raid on London shows that 20

Killed .- 9 men, 7 women, 3 children. Injured.-15 men, 28 women, 5 It was feared that one more body still remained buried in the wreckage of a Six people were killed in one house but a seventh person, an 83-years-old woman, was rescued from the debris and is still alive. A military expert at the inquests expressed the view that two combs fell together.

Arthur Stanley Rice, aged 17. a boy scout who assisted to recover the bodies, said that when a hole was made in the wall of the basement he crawled under the dresser and found one man alive and groaning. The man was enveloped in a carpet. Rice told him he hoped to rescue him soon, but when he tried to move some furniture the debris collapsed and partly buried the witness, who was rescued with difficulty by a Red Cross Two other hodies recovered yesterday were those of a father, clasping his three-years-old son.

The jury warmly praised Dr. Wright for gallant conduct in aiding the injured, some of whom were kept alive by Sir G. Cave said in Parliament that air-raid shelters were inspected by competent surveyors and architects. No building in London was proof against a heavy bomb.

A LEAP INTO THE FUTURE.

If only we could take a leap into the future—say; a hop of eighty odd cyears and M. Barthelot's prediction were verified! For in the year 2,000, the great French scientist told the Chemical Product Manufacturers, " energy will be so cheuply obtained that food can be made from carbon taken from carbonic acid, hydrogen taken from water, and nitrogen from air. What work vegetables have done science will do better, with greater profusion, and independently of seasons, microbes, or insects.

"There will be then no passion to own land. Barren regions will be preferable to fertile, because they will not be pestiferous from ages of manuring. There will be no need to disfigure out planet with agriculture, or with the grime factories and chimneys. It will recover its verdure and flora, and become a vest pleasure garden." How refreshing is this cheery optimism of M. Berthelot, and how different from the dictum of Pro-Lord Pirric married a Scoto-Irish fessor Huxley, who gloomily remarked that " science promises no millennium!
